Statement

I, Dr. Gökay Saldamlı (Professor, San José State University), independently reviewed the enclave-api source code of the Hinkal API Enclave at the commit referenced above.

This was a manual source-code review, not a full formal security audit: it did not include dynamic testing, fuzzing, or a documented finding-by-finding report. Within the scope of this review, I did not identify any critical or major security issues.

This statement reflects my assessment of the code as reviewed at the above commit. It is not a guarantee against all possible vulnerabilities, and it does not cover code changed after this commit, third-party dependencies, the build/deployment pipeline, or the underlying infrastructure.

Dr. Gökay Saldamlı Professor, San José State University
